Mission Statement

Our continuing goal is to provide "protection, comfort and support in a harmonious and dignified setting for retirement-aged women with financial needs" - the purpose stated over one hundred years ago.

From Our Archives - 50 Years Ago

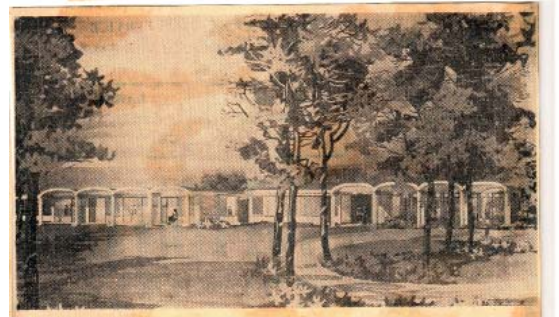

Unpacking Her Hats to place in her new room at the new Mary Galloway Home is Mrs. Alice S. Ballew, 83, as her friend, Mrs. Alice M. Carlise, 85, stands by to help. Both ladies are residents of the home. The drapes in back of them hide a large picture window overlooking one of the many gardens around the house.

Today is M-Day for 31 Memphis ladies - and they're all excited over it.

The M stands for moving, because today they move into the new Mary Galloway Home at 5389 Poplar. Workmen have put the finishing touches on the beautiful new building including carpeting and new furniture. The best thing about the new building, as far as the ladies are concerned, is that it has no stairs. Their old home, at 759 Monroe, was very nice, and they were fond of it, but those steps were a real problem.

Each of the ladies will have her own private room, with a large picture window, comfortable furniture, including a rocking chair, and an outside entrance that leads into one of the beautiful courtyards. The new home can accommodate 48 ladies, 17 more than the old one.

In addition to the living accommodations, the new home has quarters for a matron and assistant, an infirmary, lounge, dining room and kitchen. The architect was Walk C. Jones.

Happy Birthday!

Spotlight On Our Residents

Mary Ann Newton

by Beverly Williams

Mary Ann in her attractive apartment

As a child, Mary Ann would go with her mother to the old Mary Galloway Home on Monroe and to the Sunshine Home for Men to take cakes and cookies. She says she remembers those visits “like it was yesterday.” One old man invited her to come to his room and gave her some candy that “smelled like chewing tobacco.”

Following graduation from high school, she went to Memphis State, where she majored in French, English and history. She went to work at the University of Tennessee medical school, where she held a variety of positions, including psychiatric social worker. She attended graduate school but didn't finish. In 1946, she married a young doctor. While he fulfilled his military service, they were stationed in San Antonio and in Pasadena. They had three sons, Johnny, born in 1947, Jimmy, in 1951, and Tommy, in 1947. All three boys were Eagle Scouts and went on to become successful men. She has four grandsons, three granddaughters and two great-grandchildren. One grandson is in China, working at the University of Beijing. Mary Ann treasures a long string of pearls he gave her as a gift.

After divorcing in 1961, Mary Ann began a long and successful career in real estate with the Hobson Company.

She had prominent Memphians and even celebrities for clients and kept working into her eighties.

Mary Ann lived in the same house for fifty-seven years, but came to Mary Galloway in March when she began to have some health problems. She picked Mary Galloway because she “had heard nice things about it,” and “liked the idea of all women.” She was pleased that her friend, Helen Carey, was also a Mary Galloway lady.

She likes ballroom dancing and is interested in her children and grandchildren and in politics. In spite of vision problems, she is able to get around without difficulty and enjoys watching television.

Tall, slender and silver-haired, this gracious Southern lady still projects an air of sophistication and glamour.

Dog Day Afternoon

On a summer afternoon, the ladies of Mary Galloway were treated to a visit from a large, fuzzy, black and white dog. Bear and her owner, Beverly Montgomery, are with Mid South Therapy Dogs, an organization that provides pet visits to hospitals, rehab units, nursing homes, and assisted living facilities. Many of the residents of Mary Galloway are animal lovers and have fond memories of pets they have had in the past. Bear made the rounds of the ladies, did tricks and was rewarded with treats and loving pats.

These specially trained therapy dogs and their owners are volunteers who also go to St. Jude and Ronald McDonald House, and some dogs even help children learn to read. In addition to dogs, donkeys and llamas are also used for therapy. Their story can be found at www.midsouththerapydogs.org.
